BLAME FOR WRECK PUT ON ENGINEER OF EXPRESS

Collision at Sulphur Springs in Which 34 Persons Were Killed "Due to Negligence of Matthew Glenn in Failing to Observe Signals," Coroner's Jury Finds.

ORIGINAL VERDICT CHANGED BY JURY

Members Feared They "Might Be Taken for a Bunch of Rubes" if They Allowed Open Verdict to Stand.

Matthew Glenn of 1731 Iowa avenue, Engineer of the Missouri Pacific Express which ran into a local train at Sulphur Springs Saturday evening, and who was one of the 34 persons killed in the collision, was blamed for the catastrophe in the verdict of a Jefferson County Coroner's jury at DeBoto yesterday.

"This railroad accident was due to the negligence of Engineer Glenn in failing to observe signals," the verdict read. The reference to signals was to the automatic block signals in use on the road. Glenn had been in the service of the Missouri Pacific more than 30 years.

The jury, who were hastily impaneled at the time and scene of the wreck, that they might view the bodies of the dead and permit their removal, deliberated about 10 minutes after they heard the testimony.
Then they returned an open verdict,
blaming no one and stating no cause of death. Though they said nothing to that effect, it was plain from their remarks to the jury that Coroner
George Elders and Prosecuting Attorney Robert Kleinschmidt, who conducted the investigation, were disappointed in the verdict.

Jury Changes Verdict.
The jurors were discharged. They gathered on the sidewalk and several minutes later obtained leave to reconvene. One of them said they had concluded it would not do for a verdict like that to go over the country, and that the jurors "might be taken for a bunch of rubes." They specifi- cally changed their verdict from
"no cause" to "due to negligence."
One of the jurors was a special agent for the Missouri Pacific. He and two others are Deputy Sheriffs, including one man who is Assessor of the county. The other jurors were a saloon keeper, a butcher and a glass worker.

In statements to a Post-Dispatch reporter after the inquest, the Coroner and the Prosecuting Attorney admitted that, in their opinions, the accident was solely due to Engineer
Glenn's failure to observe the signals.
H. H. Larimore, assistant general attorney for the Missouri Pacific, and John Cannon, assistant general manager, attended the inquest.

The number of the dead has been reduced from 35 to 34. In lists given out by the railroad and published yesterday it was stated that the body of "Mrs. Gove, address not known," was at De Soto. It later developed that this body was not there.

Identification Changed.
The body first identified as that of Deulah Goff, 12 years old, Cadet,
Mo., is that of her sister, Pearl Goff, 15, of the same place. Pearl's body was brought to St. Louis. They were coming to St. Louis with their uncle, William Goff, Justice of the Peace at Cadet who was killed. William Clark, 3851 Page avenue, a distant relative, made the correct identification.

The railroad's list of the injured totals 151 persons. Many of these are slightly hurt.

Facts Brought Out by Testimony at Inquest Into Wreck Deaths.
Testimony at the inquest yesterday
developed five facts as to the wreck: Number 1, the southbound "Sunshine Special," and let number 4 get ahead of it at the same place.
It was understood that, while no orders were issued to that effect, number 4 would pass number 32 wherever the local train
look a sidetrack.
The crew of 32 planned to side-track on Page 3, Column 3.

Reed's Plurality in Official Returns Is Placed at 6423

COMPLETE returns compiled by the Associated Press, including the official vote in St. Louis and Kansas City and that in all except a few of the counties, place the plurality of Senator Reed over Brookridge Long for the Demo-
States Senate at 6423. Reed was shown to have received 195,042 votes and Long 188,619.
In the official tabulation in St.
Louis and Kansas City, Reed
made a net gain of 295 votes
over the unofficial totals.

The official count in St. Louis on the senatorship was completed last night. For the Democratic nomination, Reed received 43,246, Long 16,891 and Young 710. Reed's plurality was 26,355.

For the Republican nomination, the official count showed:
Sacks, 43,178; Barrett, 9769;
Proctor, 6552; Brewster, 5894;
Parker, 3596, and McKinley, 1970.

GOMPERS URGES PROBE INTO CAUSES OF WRECKS

Wants Investigation by Public Officials Not Influenced by Rail Authorities.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Samuel
Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement today, declared there should be inquiry by public officials "not under the influence of the railroad authorities" in every case of a railroad accident, in view of what he described as "the large number of apparently authentic statements charging a deplorable condition of railroad equipment."

Gompers declared reports of railroad wrecks had been frequent recently and cited the Missouri Pacific wreck at Sulphur Springs, Mo., in which 34 persons were killed.
"If it is true that the percentage of locomotives is unfit for operation," he said, "may it not be the case that the increasing frequency of railroad wrecks is due to the use of such defective locomotives?"
"It seems to be entirely probable that in every case of railroad accidents there should be an immediate inquiry by public officials who are not under the influence of railroad authorities and that the country should be immediately informed of the results in order that it may be known whether the use of unfit locomotives is a violation of the rules of safety and in defiance of law, is taking a toll of human life."

Says Defective Equipment Has Not Caused Any Wreck Since Strike.
Speaking for the St. Louis-San Francisco Railroad, J. M. Kurn, president, stated today that not since
the strike began, has a single accident on the road been attributable to defective equipment.
Discussing Gompers' suggestion that railroad accidents be investigated by public officials "not under
the influence of the railroad authorities," Kurn directed attention to the fact that the Interstate Commerce Commission investigated railroad accidents in which there was loss of life.

ONLY THREE OF 13 CABLES OF TWO COMPANIES WORKING

Stations at Two Points on Irish Coast Seized by Irregulars Who Block Communication.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Of the 13
cables of the Commercial Cable Co.
and the Western Union Co., which handle the bulk of the transatlantic service from Great Britain, only three were working today—those of the Western Union from its station
at Penzance, Southwestern England.
This is due to the seizure by Irish irregular forces of the Commercial company's station at Waterville, Southwestern Ireland, and the Western Union station at Valentia, on the Kerry coast.

Commercial Cable Co. officials say
the insurgents "are not permitting
the operators to work." Apparently the officials here were not informed as to whether cables were damaged
or traffic only momentarily blocked.

STRAW BALLOT IN GERMANY STRONGLY FAVORS PROHIBITION

By the Associated Press.
BIELEFELD, Germany, Aug. 8.—
The results of the first straw vote
ever taken in Germany on prohibition shows an overwhelming majority in favor of the abolition of alcohol, as prescribed in the United States.
This balloting was conducted in the first peace precinct of Bielefeld and, of 14,069 qualified voters, 12,626 voted for prohibition, 418
against and 1022 declined to vote.

LONG WILL NOT ASK FOR RECOUNT OF PRIMARY VOTES

Neither Will He Take Part in Movement to Bring Out Independent Democratic Candidate.

HIS SUPPORTERS
ARE DISPLEASED

Dissatisfaction Exists Also Because of His Course in Campaign—Search Continues for Independent.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

Brookridge Long, defeated on the face of the returns for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate, today set at rest all reports that he would ask for a recount of the ballots in St. Louis Kansas City, or anywhere else.

Long has accepted defeat and has quit. He has refused to have anything to do with a recount or with a movement to bring out an independent candidate against Senator Reed, although he continues to maintain that Reed is not the nominee of the Democrats, but owes his nomination to some 40,000 or 50,000 Republican votes in the Democratic primary.

Long's Statement.
Long's statement today, the first
he has authorized since the primary,
follows:

"I consider myself the choice of the Democrats of Missouri for United States Senator. Between 40,000 and 50,000 of the Republicans voted in our primary and circumvented the expressed will of the great majority of the Democrats who voted.
"One of my friends has urged
me to have the ballots recounted.
Some have counseled against it. I have considered all phases of it calmly and deliberately. A recount would not affect the Republican ballots. It was unethical, illegal and wrongful for them to vote in our primary, but owing to a defective primary law, there is no legal remedy. I have concluded that I will neither ask a recount nor file a contest."

Disatisfied With Course.
It was known to a few of the Long supporters before he issued his statement that he would refuse to heed
the appeal of many of his most active aids in his campaign that he have a recount, and now they are almost openly expressing their dissatisfaction with the course he is pursuing, as well as the course he pursued during the campaign.
Having reached a conclusion to abandon any consideration of Long,
the anti-Reed leaders are continuing to look about for a desirable Democratic candidate to replace him, and although they have not yet decided, they have not yet definitely decided that the chance to defeat Reed with an independent would be greater than if the contest was permitted to remain in the hands of R. R. Brewster of Kansas City, the Republican nominee.

Their recent conferences have been on the theory that if an independent is presented he should be a man who can command the personal loyalty of more than the opposition
in Long throughout the campaign.
In other words, they have insisted that an independent must have something more than the opposition
in Long to back him.

Few of the so-called Long leaders in the primary campaign had any interest in Long's success other than their desire to defeat Reed, and while they made a vigorous fight for Long, it was with a feeling that their only hope was in preventing a breaking up of the anti-Reed sentiment.
They failed in that. They are now saying the reason was that the candidate they urged the voters to rally around was without power to attract a personal following, and had weaknesses which Reed played up with dramatic appeal.

Desire to Save Democratic Ticket.
Of course, the main purpose of the movement for an independent candidate is to defeat Reed, but there are many strong Democrats who have become interested in who feel that if the remainder of the Democratic ticket is to be saved
it is absolutely necessary to bring out another candidate who will get to the polls the necessary number of votes that are pronounced in the position that they will not vote for Long, and rather than scratch a Democratic ballot will remain away from the polls. This, there seems no reason to doubt, would defeat
the Democratic nominees for the Supreme Court, for State Superintendents, and other offices.

MAN LIVES LONGEST IN THE SHADE OF KANSAS SUNFLOWER

Census Bureau Puts Missouri
11th in Life Expectancy and St.
Louis Third Among Cities.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Kansas
is a good State in which to be born,
for those entering life under the shade of the sunflower live longer than those born in other states, according to statistics based on the 1920 census published by the Department of Commerce yesterday.
The abridged life tables as worked out by the department show that the expectation of life at birth in Kansas is 59.73 years for white males and 60.89 for white females. Outside of youthful Kansas, the happiest children should be in Wisconsin, for white boys here born in that State may expect to live 58.7 years and white girls babies 60.70 years.

Others favored in the matter of longevity are given in the tables in the following order: Minnesota, Tennessee, Oregon, Washington,
Kentucky, North Carolina, Indiana,
Virginia and Missouri.

Washington, D. C., outranks all other of the 14 cities covered in the tables, with 53.83 years as the expectation of life for white males and 58.82 for white females. Los Angeles, St. Louis, Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, San Francisco and New York follow in the order named for white males, and Pittsburg stands at the foot of the list with the expectation of 41.66 years.
The tables also seem to dispose of the frequently made assertions that people don't live as long as they used to live. The department gives figures for the 11 "original registration states" which show that the expectation of life for white males has advanced from 50.23 in 1910 to 53.98 in 1920, and for females from 52.62 to 56.33 in the same decade.

SIX UNITS OF TROOPS ARE IN ST. LOUIS AFTER STRIKE DUTY

Total of 400 Officers and Men Are Held for Possible Further Duty.

A Battery, 128th Missouri Field
Artillery, a St. Louis militia unit, and D Battery of Sedalia, returned to St. Louis last night from guard duty at the Missouri Pacific Railroad shops at Poplar Bluff, since July 14, when the Sedalia unit of the Second Battalion of this regiment came here from duty at the Prisco shops at Chaffee since July 16. All these units, totaling about 400 men and officers, will be kept mobilized at a Battery Armory, Grand boulevard and Hickory street,
for possible further duty in the strike of railway shopmen.

These units were mobilized with the rest of the National Guard of Missouri, July 9, and all went to Poplar Bluff on July 16, relieving a battalion of the 138th Infantry from St. Louis, which had been there 24 hours. Afterward the major portion of these troops was sent to Chaffee.
There were 46 soldiers and four officers from St. Louis and suburbs in St. Louis, which had been there 24
hours. Capt. Sanford and Lieut. Rustin Smith, returning to St. Louis Saturday evening, were injured when their train on the Missouri Pacific collided with a local train in the wreck at Sulphur Springs.

About 167 men of the Third Battalion, 140th Infantry, a Southeast Missouri regiment, relieved the troops at Chaffee and about 150 men of the same battalion relieved those at Poplar Bluff.
Adjutant-General W. A. Raupp is in St. Louis today.

MAN BOUND OVER IN CASE OF UMPIRE SLAIN BY BAT

Harold Woolsey Accused of Swinging Bat After Argument Over Decision
in Ball Game.

Harold Woolsey of Valley Park
was bound over to the St. Louis County grand jury in St. Louis County today on a charge of having killed Charles A. Bouzek of Fenton while he was umpiring a baseball game on July 16 between the Fenton and Valley Park teams at Fenton.
The testimony at the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Stecker in Clayton was that after an argument over a decision of Lou-isek at first base had subsided, Woolsey struck Bouzek from behind with a baseball bat. He was captured as he tried to flee. It was found that the blow had fractured Bouzek's skull. He died within a few hours.
Three witnesses at the preliminary hearing, Earl Rudder, William Wallach and Charles Cornell of Fenton told nearly identical stories of the attack.

Affidavits based on school records
tended to show that Woolsey was 18 years old. An effort was made last week to introduce affidavits of Woolsey's parents that he was only 16.
These were ruled out by Justice Stecker, who said he would accept only direct testimony of the parents.
They did not testify today.

HARDING CALLS ON HOUSE TO BE READY TUESDAY FOR ACTION IN THE INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

ALLEGED ELECTION FRAUDS IN COUNTY LAID TO GAMBLERS

Bootleggers Also Accused at Maplewood Meeting of Share in Financing of "Machine" Operations.

"PROTECTION" OCCURS
FREQUENTLY IN TALKS

Acting State President Says
League of Women Voters Is in Accord With Move to Unearth Facts in Primary.

Charges that "machine" operations in St. Louis County politics are financed by gamblers and bootleggers were made last night by leaders of the Clean Elections League at a meeting in the Maplewood Club Hall called by Miss Leonora Dietrich, president of the Maplewood League of Women Voters.

About 150 persons, with men and women equally represented, attended the meeting, and half of them stood
about the walls and adjournment.
"Protection"—a word soothing to the unscrupulous politician when mentioned in conference, but dismaying
when shouted into the welkin—occurred frequently in the speeches in connection with a mysterious personage named only as "the Boss."

Mrs. T. Walter Hardy of Normandy, acting president of the Missouri League of Women Voters, outlined the origin of the movement to investigate the primary election. She said that Willis Benson, Republican committeeman from Central Township, had asked her for a list of reputable women to serve as election
judges, and had given this list, fused with one of reputable men, to the Central Committee, with the result,
Mrs. Hardy declared, that about three of his recommendations were followed and a number of known gamblers were appointed by the County Court.

Refused to Change Appearances.
The County Court refused to accede to demands made by it by a body of about 150 persons the Friday before election that some of its appointees be changed. At a mass meeting in Clayton last Thursday night a considerable working fund
was raised and evidence was taken from which affidavits have been drawn up and signed and sent to Gov. Hyde. Other speakers last night referred to a Jefferson City dispatch in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, telling of the probable appointment by Attorney-General Barrett of a Democrat and a Republican, with one of his assistants, to conduct the investigation in the county, and deplored the necessity for calling on other than county officials. Attorney-General Barrett will be in St. Louis Thursday and at that time will look into the county situation.

"The League of Women Voters,"
she continued, "is heartily in accord with the move to unearth what really happened in the primary election.
The condition is so grave that there should be no ceasing until the charges of fraud, if they are so, are proved in court. We know that the gamblers of Central Township controlled the election in Central Township if not in the whole county. The power
we are fighting is not only a crooked machine but one financed by gamblers and bootleggers."

"We can't stop until we have sent the guilty to the State Penitentiary.
The people are almost always right,
but they are inert and a small gang
—not a hundredth of the people—can control them. The primary election was stolen in a bold and most flagrant manner from the people of St. Louis County."

"We have learned that there is a powerful machine operating in this county, that it has unlimited funds and that these funds are coming from gamblers and bootleggers.
But there is a fourth and more sinister fact about this line; it has machine knows no party lines; it has controls the nominations in both. If you want the people of St. Louis County to be the real bosses of the
situation."

DECISION MADE TO BUILD DES PERES SEWER NEXT YEAR

Conclusion Based on Report of Health Commission Declaring City Maintains Nuisance.

The Board of Public Service today
decided informally to build the River
des Peres sewer at a cost of $10,000-000, whether the bond issue item for this purpose is carried in the election of Feb. 14 next or not. If the bond item is not voted, the work will be done at the expense of a special taxing district.

The board decided that it would begin at once the legal work of creating the special taxing district, to include about one-third of the area of the city. A hearing of property owners will be held probably the first week in September.

The action of the board will be subject to the approval of the Board of Aldermen, which will be asked to pass an ordinance establishing the special taxing district, and this measure will require the Mayor's approval. The legislative steps in proceedings of this character ordinarily take 10 months.

The work of laying out the special taxing district will be nearly completed by next February, it is believed. If the bond issue item carries in the February election the plans for a special district will be dropped. If the bond issue item is defeated, the plans will be carried forward, and the work done at the expense of the special district.

River Treated Nuisance.
The board's decision is based on a report of Health Commissioner Starkloff, who declares that, in the present condition of River des Peres,
the city is maintaining a nuisance
much bigger than any of the nuisances which private property owners are fined for maintaining.

The Board of Public Service is expected to confirm its informal decision of today at its regular meeting Friday.

Proposals for bond issue items,
less than $10,000,000, for the abatement of the River des Peres nuisance, have been defeated in two past elections.

Starkloff's Report.
The Health Commissioner, in a report addressed to Director Plisk of the Streets and Sewers Department, says:
"As you are aware, the sanitary condition of the River des Peres from its entrance into the city to its terminus, where it flows into the Mississippi River south of Lorenz street, has been distressingly vile for many years, and a constant source of danger to the health and lives of the citizens of St. Louis—particularly those who live in close proximity to this stream. This condition has been getting worse from day to day, and something drastic must be done to remedy this increasing danger to the public health."

"The River des Peres is to St. Louis
as the Chicago River was to Chicago until they succeeded in ridding their city of the most foully polluted river
in the world by sanitary engineering. We have here the former polluted Chicago river, only on a smaller scale, running through one of the most beautiful parks in the United States, emitting its foul and contaminating odors from one end of the city to the other."

"City Maintains Nuisance."
"Thousands of homes are discharging their sewage through 25 or more of the city's sewers, and innumerable private ones into the River des Peres. New homes are being constantly built along the course of this stream, adding to the gravity of the situation."

"Citizens daily are being cited to appear before the Health Division for having a nuisance on their property, and are sent to court, fined and compelled to abate such nuisance, and St. Louis, on its property, is maintaining the largest one in this city. There is nothing in the character or ordinances that exempt the city of St. Louis, or permits it to have insanitary conditions on its property."

"The charter, as applying to the Health Commissioner, among other things provides, 'Where, in the judgment of said Commissioner, the exis-

LEWIS PREDICTS END OF THE COAL STRIKE THIS WEEK

Definite Program of Settlement to Be Taken Up at Cleveland Conference Tomorrow.

LEADERS AMONG OPERATORS OPTIMISTIC

Plan Includes Revival of Wage Contracts That Expired Last March and Creation of Advisory Body.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8.—With a definite program for ending the soft coal strike ready for consideration tomorrow, the joint conference of the leaders of the striking union miners and coal operators today marked time.

President John I. Lewis of the miners, also leaders among the operators here, were optimistic regarding the probability of a settlement, which if accomplished would be followed almost immediately by the union asking anthracite operators to renew the wage negotiations that were broken in June. Lewis expressed the opinion that "this week will see the end of the bituminous coal controversy."

In brief, the program for settlement called for re-establishment of the wage contracts that expired last March 31, and also the creation of an advisory commission of inquiry to settle disputes without strikes. The re-established wage contracts would remain through the re-establishment of the old contracts and there would be no change of working conditions.

Minor union leaders and operators who had gathered here for the joint conference, said they had assurances that a number of prominent operators of Illinois and Indiana would have delegates to the conference.

It was said that some Iowa, Missouri, Wyoming and other operators were already on their way to this city.

The expectation of the break among the Indiana and Illinois operators, who had opposed the interstate meeting as a means of effecting a settlement, caused the conference here to recess late yesterday until 3 p. m. Wednesday.

Among the questions to be decided tomorrow in addition to the principal one of adoption or rejection of the general program for settlement was whether a single wage agreement would be accepted for all soft coal fields, or whether one would be made for the old competitive field comprising Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, with separate contracts being drawn on the basis of the central field contract for the outlying districts.

Though the strike may be settled on a nation-wide scale, there is expected to remain several thousands of miners still on strike.

BOTH SIDES TO MEET AND CONSIDER HARDING'S PLAN TO END STRIKE

With all executives of railroad labor organizations.

R. M. Jewell, as spokesman for the trio of shop craft leaders, conferred with the President yesterday and received his subsequent call for settlement of the strike, said he expected that strike action would be suggested at the general conference which also would meet here.

In connection with the call for shop craft executives to meet and meet on the President's proposal, Jewell pointed out that he and his colleagues did not have authority to answer for the Federation. He added that "nobody ought to get the idea that the shop federation will accept."

Rail Heads to Meet.

Telegrams summoning the heads of 148 railroads to New York Friday frame the reply of the Association of Railway Executives to President Harding's second plan for settlement of the shop craft strike were dispatched today.

Orders for the convention were issued at Bar Harbor, Me., by T. DeWitt Cuyler, president of the association. A sharp division of opinion between Eastern and Western carrier chiefs toward the President's plan for settlement of the strike directly up to the Railroad Labor Board, appeared in railroad circles today.

President's Proposals.

President Harding's proposals are that the men be sent back to work, that the managements take them back, and that adjustment of the crucial seniority issue be left to the decision of the Railroad Labor Board.

Jewell, W. H. Johnston, head of the machinists' association, and J. P. Noonan, comprising a committee representing the striking unions, asked the President's communication to a conference, later calling in H. S. Wills of the engineers, Paul Stearns of the trainmen, and Arthur

President's Message to Heads of Strikers and Rail Executives

FOLLOWING is the text of President Harding's telegrams sent yesterday to B. M. Jewell, leader of the striking shopmen, and to T. DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, calling upon both sides to agree to a termination of the strike, pending decision by the Railroad Labor Board on the disputed question of seniority:

To the Strikers:

I had your communication in which you and your associates, speaking for the striking railway shopmen, pledged your agreement to the proposals which I submitted to the railway executives and your organizations for the settlement of the pending railroad strike. Inasmuch as I was acting as a voluntary mediator, seeking the earliest possible settlement, I confess to you the same disappointment which I have conveyed to the executives that the terms were not unanimously accepted. As you are already aware, the executives of the carriers declared their inability to restore seniority rights unimpaired.

It is exceedingly gratifying, however, that in responding to the terms proposed that both the spokesmen for the carriers and the spokesmen for the employees have pledged that they "will recognize the validity of all decisions of the Railroad Labor Board and to faithfully carry out such decisions as contemplated by the law." Moreover, spokesmen for the carriers and employees have approved the second paragraph of the proposal and in their approval have agreed that "Railroad Labor Board decisions which have been involved in the strike may be taken, in the exercise of their recognized rights, by either party to the Railroad Labor Board for rehearing." Inasmuch as the employees have agreed to all the terms proposed, therefore, only the question of seniority, covered in paragraph three, which the executives rejected, remains in dispute and bars settlement.

Mindful of the pledge of both the executives and the striking shopmen to recognize the validity of all decisions by the Railroad Labor Board, I am hereby calling on the striking workmen to return to work, calling upon the carriers to assign them to work, calling upon both workmen and carriers, under the law, to take the question in dispute to the Railroad Labor Board for rehearing and decision.

I had your communication in which you conveyed to me the resolutions of your associations agreeing to two paragraphs in the proposal which I submitted for the settlement of the pending strike of railroad shop employees, and declining to accept the third which provided for restored seniority rights of the workmen on the strike. Inasmuch as I was acting as a voluntary mediator, seeking the earliest possible restoration of railway transportation to full efficiency, I confess a disappointment that the terms were not accepted.

The resolutions which you transmit on behalf of the executives do pledge that the carriers will "recognize the validity of all decisions of the Railroad Labor Board and faithfully carry out such decisions as contemplated by law." You convey the further agreement, as expressed in the second paragraph of the proposal that "Railroad Labor Board decisions which have been involved in the strike may be taken, in the exercise of recognized rights by either party to the Railroad Labor Board for rehearing."

The striking employees agree to all the terms proposed, therefore, only the question of seniority, covered in paragraph three, which the executives rejected, remains in dispute and bars settlement. Mindful of the pledge of both the executives and the striking workmen to recognize the validity of all decisions by the Railroad Labor Board, I am hereby calling on the striking workmen to return to work, and calling upon the carriers to assign them to work, calling upon both workmen and carriers under the law to take the question in dispute to the Railroad Labor Board for rehearing and decision and a compliance by both with the decision rendered.

The engineers' chiefs, following the meeting, gave out a statement which was taken for forwarding to the President and copies of a telegram to W. S. Stone, chief of the engineers, and to E. J. Manion of St. Louis, president of the telegraphers, asking for their co-operation in the formulation of a program which would have for its purpose "protection of the public, preservation of the railroad industry and an honorable basis of settlement."

Statement in Part.

"Messrs. Noonan, Johnston, and Jewell have been in conference several hours considering the proposal made by the President today," the statement said. "We have requested the chief executives of all the striking shop craft unions and the stationary engineers and others to meet with us here next Wednesday."

"We also have urgently requested by telegraph and telephone that a conference of all executives of railroad labor organizations be held in Washington, Friday, August 11."

"We have requested this conference because we recognize that railroad employees not now on strike will be in defense of the traveling public and necessary to the operation of the country. It is clear to any unbiased person that railroad equipment is growing more unsafe each day and relief must be had through an honorable settlement. Employees now on strike are firm in their position and will continue so as long as the Association of Railway Executives declines to accept reasonable terms of agreement."

Telegram to Stone.

In their message to Stone, the three union officials emphasized their conclusion that "the Government has authority to settle the strike on the just, fair and reasonable basis proposed by the President July 31."

"However, it is now apparent that no constructive program is being proposed," the telegram continued, "and that unless the railroad employees can offer additional counsel and advice, the lives and safety of employees and traveling public, already endangered by the continued unsafe condition of railroad equipment, will be imperiled to a greater extent. Believing that the chief executive of each of the standard railroad labor organizations, as a result of their years of experience, broad public viewpoint and sincere desire for industrial peace, can, by conference with the officers of this shop craft, formulate a program for the preservation of the public, preservation of the railroad industry and an honorable basis of settlement for the managers."

MOBERLY BANKERS GET 5 AND 10 YEARS FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Walter Bundridge, Former President of Defunct Institution, Receives 10 Years and Brother Gets Five.

SENTENCES PASSED AFTER TRIAL OF BROTHERS AT MOBERLY

By the Associated Press.
MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 8.—Walter Bundridge, formerly president, and his brother, Verne Bundridge, former cashier of the defunct Farmers' and Merchants' Bank here, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to embezzling $400,000 from the bank and were sentenced to 10 and five years, respectively, in the penitentiary.

The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank was closed on May 11 last by a State bank examiner after forged notes and juggled accounts aggregating $400,000 had been found. Verne Bundridge was in Moberly when the bank was closed and was arrested the same night. Walter fled and it was only after a chase which led into several Northern cities and Canada that he finally gave himself up to officers in Iowa.

The brothers have been in jail at Huntsville for several weeks. When it became known yesterday that the trial of the former bankers would be held, the small courtroom quickly filled with spectators. In the crowd were depositors who had lost every cent they possessed. The crowd roared when the defendants were brought in, having been stationed in various parts of the courtroom to quell any disorder that might arise.

Dissatisfaction with the lightness of the sentences imposed was voiced by many persons here last night. The former president of the bank pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and punishment was assessed at five years in this indictment. He also pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and was sentenced to three years on that count. The third sentence, two years on an indictment charging him with forgery, to which he pleaded guilty.

Verne Bundridge pleaded guilty to one indictment charging him with embezzlement and was sentenced to a term of five years.

When Circuit Judge A. W. Walker, presiding, asked the Prosecuting Attorney for recommendations, the latter asked leniency for the defendants, who had 47 indictments pending against them, all but three of which were not tried.

Walter Bundridge received his sentence cheerfully and smiling, but his brother appeared to be holding back tears. Both men were taken to jail at Huntsville after the trial.

Rail Executives Assailed.

The telegram to Stone, which was repeated in part to Manion, also declared the striking unions had made the only concessions to date for settlement, and asserted that the rail executives, "obviously acting under the direction of those who exercise the financial control and dictate the labor policies of railroads, repudiated the promise given by their chairman to the President, and denied the spokesman of the American people."

The alleged "repudiation" by the executives had reference to previous proposals of the President, suggesting that the railroads give the men complete seniority status on their return.

The President's communications to both parties to the strike were made public shortly after noon, after the meeting at the White House of the three union leaders, who waited over after meeting him Sunday.

Senate Activity.

Moved by the continued representation concerning the state of railroad equipment, the Senate yesterday passed a resolution by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, calling upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to report the exact condition of locomotives and cars.

The commission, through its safety bureau, maintains an inspection service to determine whether legal standards are met by operating lines.

General Rail Union Conference Called for Friday.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Aug. 8.—Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, today telegraphed 14 chief executives of railroad shopmen asking them to attend a conference in Washington next Friday to consider the railroad situation throughout the country and "prevent the impending calamity of a collapse in transportation."

President Stone's action was taken following receipt of a telegram this morning from Bert M. Jewell, head of the shop craft unions, William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, and J. F. Noonan, president of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, asking him to call such a meeting.

"I called the brotherhood chiefs together as requested," Stone said, "but I do not know just what action will be taken."

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 8.—A periscope is employed by the police here to ferret out bootleggers. It was put into action last night and Sgt. Oelsner, in command of the police morals squad, is expecting big results.

The periscope was manufactured by Aureus Chamberlain, one of the liquor sleuths, and he and his partner, Patrolman Meiners, are going out this month to break all existing records in the apprehension of bootleggers.

Chamberlain will set up his periscope in a room adjoining the suspected bootleggers, he said. He will be completely out of sight, but will be able to see all that is going on in the next room. If he spies a bottle of liquor or sees the bartender serve drinks from a hidden bottle, he will signal his partner, and together they will rush the place.

Armed Men Board Car, Holding Up Four, Three of Whom Police Question Later.

Two young men armed with revolvers boarded an automobile driven by Miss Ethel Patrick, 22 years old, of 3149 Franklin avenue, restaurant proprietor, as she started to drive away from the curb at Manchester avenue and King's highway with a party of friends at 11 o'clock last night.

One of the men stripped rings she valued at $675 from her fingers. From Michael Foglia of 771 Bayard avenue, in a rear seat, they took $25 from his wallet. A drug clerk of 1461 Arlington avenue, they took $4 and a watch. The robbery occurred just after the party had come out of a cafe at Manchester and King's highway.

Miss Patrick said the ride was taken at the insistence of her friends. Foglia and his wife and Bello were held by the police today for questioning. They denied any knowledge of the identity of the robbers.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5.—Thomas Martin was killed and Guy Markers severely injured Sunday near La Zacatera mine in the state of Coahuila in an encounter with miners from a neighboring camp.

Dispatches from Torreon say that the Americans had an altercation with hostile miners and were attacked by a superior force. Federal troops are pursuing the attackers, according to the war office. George T. Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires, has received no information regarding the incident further than the newspaper advices.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN DEATH OF TWO IN EXPLOSION

Italian and Infant Daughter Fatally Burned When Bomb on Which He Was Working Let Go.

WIFE AND ANOTHER
CHILD ALSO INJURED

Widow Says Husband Had Made All Bombs Used in Celebrations at Columbus
Square.

A verdict of accident was returned by the coroner today at the inquest over Salvatore Foti, 27 years old, of 1228 North Eleventh street, and his child, Frances, two months old who were fatally burned yesterday
by the explosion of an aerial bomb
which Foti was making in his home
for use in an Italian religious celebration to be held in Columbus
Square.

Foti's wife, Margaret, 22, and another infant child, Jennie, 14 months were burned in the explosion also.
The child and father died in the afternoon at the city hospital.

Police men testified that there was a loud explosion, followed by two smaller ones, in the Foti home at 11:40 a. m. and that Foti came running out enveloped in flames.

A contractor, at work across the street, carried out the children and their mother through a second-story window and down a ladder. Mrs.
Foti said her husband made all the bombs used in frequent Italian fetes in Columbus Square.

LONG WILL NOT ASK FOR RECOUNT OF VOTE

tendent of Schools, and for the Legislature in some close districts.
This question is one which is giving the anti-Reed Democrats much concern.
They want to defeat Reed, but they want to elect the remainder of the ticket. In considering the method to be followed, there have been many who have taken the position that an open campaign for Brewster and without an independent Democratic candidate, would be more effective than a campaign for an independent, the theory being that there would be many Democrats who would vote for Brewster
if there was no independent on the ticket, but who would vote for the independent Democrat instead of for Brewster if they had the opportunity.
This, they have feared, would divide the anti-Reed vote and let Reed win.

Reed Will Get Republican Vote.
On the other hand, there have been those who contended that if no independent was followed, there would be many Democrats who would not go to the polls, and the whole Democratic ticket would be lost. It has been called that Reed will get a large Republican vote in the general election, larger than he received in the primary, but there has been no belief that these Republicans would vote for any Democratic candidate other than Reed.

So the question in the minds of many Democrats has become whether it is more to the interest of the Democratic party to have Reed elected and lose the remainder of the ticket, or to lose the remainder of the ticket and elect Reed.
While so far the effort has been to conduct the conference of the anti-Reed forces with secrecy, it is known that among those who have participated have been former Gov.
Leon V. Stephens, National Committee man Edward E. Gohara, Charles M. Hay, Col. Francis M. Currier,
Thomas L. Anderson, W. D. Vandiver, Roscoe Anderson, Ewing Y.
Mitchell of Springfield, Ben Hulse of Hannibal, and the remainder of
and J. D. Hostetter of Bowling Green.

In considering possibilities to put forward as the independent candidate many Democrats have been considered, but no decision has been reached. Among those who have been considered, most of them without consulting the individuals in question, were Vandiver, Hay, Currier, former Gov. Stephens, Mrs. W.
W. Martin of Fayette, Joshua W.
Alexander of Gallatin. Secretary of Commerce in President Wilson's Cabinet; former Gov. Dockery of Gallatin, Sam H. Cook of Jefferson City, R. E. Culver of St. Joseph, and probably others.

While it is virtually certain that Long will not ask a recount, the anti-Reed group has not entirely abandoned the idea of attempt to obtain a recount in St. Louis. Some lawyers holding that it can be had
if the law on this point is now being investigated, and if it is possible to proceed in St. Louis irrespective of Long's desires, there is a possibility the recount will be undertaken.

Chart of Block Signal System Which Should Have Prevented Wreck

THIS chart explains the block signal system which should have saved Missouri Pacific train No. 32 from the wreck at Sulphur Springs, and which a coroner's jury found was disregarded by Engineer Glenn of Train No. 4.

At 7:17 p. m. last Saturday 32 stopped at the Sulphur Springs water tank to fill the locomotive tender. Its coaches ran back over a trestle across Glaze Creek and the rear end overlapped the "stop" signal there.
Nearly three-quarters of a mile farther south, at the beginning of a sharp curve, is a "caution" signal. Just north of Riverside station is another

FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR WRECK VICTIMS

Joint funeral services were held at the Sacred Heart Church of Festus this morning for Miss Irene Moon, 18 years old, who was killed in the Sulphur Springs wreck Saturday, and her sister, Mrs. Gertrude La Rose, whose death at 6 a. m.
Sunday from heart disease is believed to have been precipitated by the shock of learning of Miss Moon's death.

The sisters lived in Crystal City.
Besides the parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Edward L. Moon of Festus, Mrs. La
Rose, who was 30 years old, is survived by her husband and two sons, 4 and 10 years old.

The funeral of Miss Alice Cooper, who was killed with Miss Moon, was held at Hannatt, Mo., at 11 o'clock
this morning.

Funeral services were held in St.
Louis today for the following persons killed in the Sulphur Springs wreck:

Mrs. Mathilda Kobay, 44 years old,
of 5414 Garfield avenue, and her daughter, Mildred, 16. Services at a private home, 4422 Madison ave., at 2:30 p. m., and burial in Memorial Park Cemetery. Her husband and seven children survive.

Mrs. Florence Rodgers Hitt, 60, services at 2:30 p. m. at St. Michael's avenue and burial in Valhalla cemtery. Her husband and two children survive.

The funeral of Matthew Glenn, 17 1/2 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs.
fast train, who was killed by jumping from his cab before the crash,
will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Burial will be in Mount Olive cemetery. Glenn, who was 53 years old, was a widower and had no children.

Mrs. Isabelle D. How, 54, wife of Hiram How, 4622 Madison avenue, will be buried in Valhalla cemetery at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, after services at 4102 Manchester avenue. Six children also survive.

Services for Mrs. Nellie P. Muthall, 45, an employee of the City Sanitarium, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow from a chapel at 2217 South
Grand boulevard. Burial will be in Valhalla cemetery. Mrs. Muthall was the wife of Edmund Muthall.

Two "Katy" Trains Restored.
The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad today announced that passenger trains 25 and 26 had been restored between Waco and Houston,
again giving the "Katy" flyer
through service between St. Louis and Houston.

United States Senator against Senator Reed and R. R. Brewster, prefers not to seek re-election. If he office, it became known today, that is, if Reed and his supporters are willing to keep their hands off the party platform and machinery.

Mrs. Martin's activity in 1920 had much to do with repudiation of Reed by the Democratic State Convention and who was suggested in the present emergency by W. D. Vandiver, of Columbia, declined to make much of a statement about the matter.

"Yes, two or three persons have telephoned to me about running as an independent," she said, "but I told them no. For I think that it were far better for me not to seek office."

Friends of Mrs. Martin say that she really is devoted to the idea of not running for office. Her feelings toward Reed, however, are in no way changed. She, like other prominent Democrats, views with foreboding and apprehension the prospect of Senator Reed and the groups which have nominated him
seizing the machinery of the Democratic party and writing its platform next month. If this is done, it is tempted she might be persuaded to sacrifice her own wishes.

Engineer of Express Blamed for Sulphur Springs Wreck

track at Wickes, four miles north of Sulphur Springs, to let 1 and 4
pass, or if they were delayed too long taking water and passengers
at Sulphur Springs, to sidetrack
at Spencer, a little more than a mile north, for these two trains.

Number 4 was given orders to sidetrack at White House, seven miles north of Sulphur Springs, for 1, but had no instructions as to 32, because 32 had the same
"rights" to the main track as had 4, and was protected, supposedly,
by the automatic block signals.

No. 1 had the right of way from Cliff Cave, end of the double track, 16 miles south of St. Louis, to Bismarck, a distance of 62 miles.
Furthest south, including 32, 4 and 41, at southbound local which side-tracks for 1.

It was further testified that the block signal system was in working order the day before and at the time of the wreck.

Train Crews Testify.
The testimony taken was that of all but one of the surviving members of the two train crews in the wreck, and of the train dispatcher who issued his orders and the divisional superintendent of block signals, Edward Tinsley of 2301 South Eighteenth avenue, who is in the Missouri Pacific Hospital here, suffering from minor injuries, did not go to the inquest. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that he had received orders about 32, but that the dispatcher always side-tracked 32, when it was late, for 4.

J. A. Long, conductor of 32, was the first member of the crews to testify. He stated that he received the orders after he left De Soto. He said there was no regular place of sidetracking to let No. 4 pass, for the reason that 32 was due at St. Louis an hour and a half ahead of 4. No.
32 was two hours late Saturday evening.

He said the wreck occurred 35 seconds after No. 32 had come to a stop at the water tank below Sulphur Springs, and before the engine had had adjusted the spout to the tank.
He said he did not know that No. 4
was so near. At the last telegraph station, Riverside, he said, he had received no orders.

"No. 4 had no right of way over 32," Long said. He was asked as to the reason for not taking water at De Soto, and whether it had anything to do with the strike, and he replied that he could not say.

Heard No. 4 Approach.
The conductor was asked whether he had sent a flagman back, and he replied, "We had only just stopped." He said he was in the fourth car from the rear, and that all those who were killed were in the three cars behind. He added that he heard No. 4's approach just as he was getting off the car platform.

The railroad's rules require that when a train stops under any circumstances under which another train
may overtake it, the flagman shall go back immediately, and General Manager Murphy said today that a flagman was supposed to go back
at every stop.

J. T. Gross, engineer of 32, testified that he had heard at Poplar Bluff that No. 4 was late, and that he all he knew about 4. He said he could have taken water at Mineral Point or Blackwell. He asserted
he could have seen No. 4 about a half mile back if he had looked around a curve in that direction. He been seen from 4 and how soon 4
could have been stopped and he said
the distance in which a fast train
could be stopped would depend largely on the grade.

Planned to "Make" Wickes.
Gross said Conductor Long had given him instructions to "make"
Wickes, four miles above Sulphur
Springs, if he could, to meet No. 1.
He said the conductor told him he might let No. 4 by at the same time. If he could not get to Wickes he was to stop at Spencer, one mile north of Sulphur Springs.

W. E. Long, fireman of No. 32, and brother of the conductor, testified that he and the engineer
planned to "make" Wickes to meet
No. 1 and to let No. 4 go by. He said he had not received any information as to No. 1's time, and that he

COURT ORDER ISSUED TO PERMIT SLACK LOADING

Mine Union Restrained From Interference in Bringing Fuel to St. Louis.

A temporary restraining order was granted today by Judge English in the East St. Louis Federal Court to stop interference with the loading
and hauling of slack from coal mines in the Belleville district, for use by St. Louis city institutions.

The restraining order was directed against officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America,
in its State and local divisions.
It was stated in the petition that the slack, which had accumulated near mines in the Belleville district and at some mines near Caseyville, was destined for the St. Louis City Hospital, sanitarium, Koch Hospital and the waterworks. It was charged that there has been interference with employees of coal companies loading and hauling this slack. The petitioners represented St. Louis coal companies.

The Water Department has 5000
tons of slack lying on the ground
at a mine near O'Fallon, Ill. A recent effort to load it was halted
when a representative of strikers
ordered workmen to stop.

Fuel supplies at the various city institutions are dwindling fast, the Supply Commissioner said today.
He said the power plant at the City Hall might be shut down and current obtained from a public utility company for lighting in that event.
The elevator service would be discontinued at the City Hall and Municipal Courts building.

Use of the oil burners under the boilers at the Chalmers Rock water pumping station to guard against a fuel shortage and possible curtailment of water service has increased the fuel bill of the Water Department more than $1000 a day, Water Commissioner Wall said today.

Oil burners were installed the latter part of July when the Water Department was unable to get orders
for coal filled, due to the coal miners' strike. Approximately 20, 000 gallons of oil is being burned daily at Chain of Rocks. It is being delivered at $1.85 a barrel, containing 42 gallons. Before the strike coal was delivered at $2.15 a ton and the average consumption at Chain of Rocks was 1000 tons a week.

GOAL COMMITTEE WILL MEET

The Missouri Coal Distribution Committee will meet Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at the Planters Hotel to make allotments to essential industries and lines of business. Dealers who have such customers are asked to mail reports to reach the commission at the Planters Hotel Thursday morning, giving name and address of each such customer, the amount of coal or coke required for each day, the purpose for which the coal is required, and the amount of coal in storage for such customer.

Plots in the priority class, the essentials are expected to make written request, giving the amount of coal required daily, amount in storage, amount in transit, sources of supply and whether oil can be used if coal cannot be had. All requests must be presented in writing.

ment were busy yesterday and today
visiting the injured and families of the dead, arranging for medical and hospital attention in the case of those injured. Of about 50 persons thus interviewed about 40 reported that lawyers had been soliciting their cases, and some cases have been settled by the railroad.

No Water in De Soto Tank.
Prosecuting Attorney Kleinschmidt
told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that No. 32 and other trains
could not take water at De Soto,
where No. 4 makes a stop, is that no water has been pumped to the cause of the strike of railroad shopmen. The Missouri Pacific has shops at De Soto.

George B. Scott, chief dispatcher of the Missouri Pacific, controlling the line to St.
Louis, told a Post-Dispatch correspondent today that 32 had no orders regarding 4 because it had the same rights to the main line as had 4, and was protected by block signals.

In the railroad's standard code of rules, paragraph 1 of rule 45 says:
"When a train of one schedule is on the time of another schedule of the same class, in the same direction,
train proceeds on its own schedule."

The impression prevails at Poplar Bluff that Engineer Glenn missed
the slack because he was engaged in reading the orders received at Riverside.

About 25 claims for damages growing out of the wreck have been made to the general offices of the Missouri Pacific. It is expected there that the claims will total about $200.
The operatives of the claim depart-

TWO ILLINOIS CENTRAL TRESTLES FOUND AFIRE

Passing Automobilist Discovers Blazes at Church Station
Which Are Extinguished.

Two Illinois Central Railroad trestles
at Church Station, half way between Belleville and East St. Louis, were found burning at 1:30 o'clock this morning by Dr. Harrison Reinbold of St. Louis, who was passing in an automobile. He notified the Belleville station and at the request of a railroad official, Sheriff Schnip-per and Deputy Meder went there.
They found trestles of both the northbound and southbound tracks, which are about 100 feet apart at that point, in flames. The Belleville and East St. Louis fire departments sent chemical apparatus. The flames were extinguished.

The trestles span the drainage canal and adjacent low ground. If the fire had not been discovered one or both might have collapsed under the weight of a train. It is said trains approach the trestle on the northbound track down grade at high speed, and southbound trains enter all possible speed approaching the trestle for the up-grade beyond.

Sheriff Schnipper said he was convinced, with both trestles on fire at the same time, although too far apart for the flames to communicate from one to the other, that they were set afire.

SAYS REFINERS LOSE MONEY ON GASOLINE

Secretary of Petroleum Institute Attributes Price Reductions to Decline in Crude Oil Values.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Opening its inquiry into gasoline prices, the Senate manufacturers committee was told yesterday by R. L. Welch, secretary and counsel of the American Petroleum Institute, that refiners in the United States as a whole had produced gasoline and other petroleum products at a loss since late in 1929. The recent declines in gasoline prices were attributed by the witness to reduction in crude oil values.
"The maintenance of the market in crudes," said Welch, "was due to an apprehension that production in some of the Mexican fields was due for a rapid decline. However, the development of a series of important pools in the mid-continent field and in California has increased the current supply of crude to a point where in connection with the crude oil stocks on hand, there is no longer any need for apprehension regarding a sufficient supply to meet present demands."
Welch told the committee that it seemed reasonably apparent that the continuity of supply will be largely dependent upon the discovery of new and important pools. Questioned as to further reason for the decline in crude prices and the consequent drop in gasoline, Welch said that it appeared that the business judgment of the oil men together with a lack of storage facilities and employment of the financial resources combined to cause most purchasers of the crude product to decline to buy.

Asked regarding the influence of the so-called "standard companies," Welch said that of the pipe line oil the standard companies handled about 200,000 barrels daily of the 1,500,000 barrels so transferred, or about 20 per cent of the total from the mid-continent field.

The witness reverted to the subject of profits in the oil industry and declared that the refiners "have gone through the most disastrous period in their history in the last

ALLEGED STRIKE ORDER VIOLATORS LECTURED

Printer of Cards Among Those Warned by Federal Judge English.

The printing of cards containing a scathing "definition of a scab" made him liable to a jail sentence for violating a temporary injunction granted to the Big Four Railroad. Federal Judge English declared at St. Louis yesterday, in lecturing E. H. Tucker, secretary-treasurer of the Mattoon (Ill.) Journal Co., before dismissing contempt proceedings against him on Tucker's promise to refrain from further actions. Tucker had asserted he had printed the cards as a matter of regular job work and did not believe he had violated any provisions of the injunction.

"These cards will raise more hell and cause more trouble in Coles County than if you had gone out with a double-barreled shotgun," Judge English told Tucker. "They are nothing more than a smoldering volcano. You knew the man who ordered them intended to distribute them, thus inflaming the minds of strikers and their families. In such circumstances, it is for you to stick by the courts and your country, and not by the railroads, the strikers nor the scabs."

Charges Dismissed.

Judge English also dismissed contempt charges against Ben McFarland, T. J. Davis and E. A. Dant of Mount Carmel, Ill., former employees of the Big Four, when they showed they had been on the road's property at Mount Carmel in legitimate pursuits and not as trespassers. He lectured the men, however, because he believed from the testimony that they were willing to take concerted, perhaps unfair, action against the railroad.

"I had hoped you men would win fairly," he said. "I have hammered iron as many days as you have 'railroaded.' I know what it is to belong to a labor organization, and I can tell you that anything you gain by unfairness is not lasting."

Everett Tabers, 17 years old, of 623 Piggott avenue, East St. Louis, driver of an ice wagon, was sentenced by Judge English to serve 60 days in jail and pay a fine of $50 and costs, for violating an injunction granted to the Illinois Central Railroad Co., restraining strikers and others from interfering with employees and property of the company. Witnesses testified that Tabers called employees of the company names and threw stones at the employees and guards.

Sentence Suspended.

Judge English suspended the fine and imprisonment until further order. The result is that Tabers is at liberty on good behavior. Before suspending sentence, the judge exacted a promise from Tabers that he would do nothing to violate the injunction or anything that might be a violation of the law, either State or Federal. Tabers denied committing the acts of which he was accused.

"I want to do for you what will be for your best interest," said the judge. "I believe you can develop into a good citizen and I want to help you. Your mother wants you to be good, and I believe that you have that desire yourself, but your environment has been to your disadvantage. Come in and see me once in a while; I want to see how you progress."

Tabers said his mother did washing in order to help him support the family, which consists of his mother, a younger sister and himself.

HENRY FORD'S BROTHER BILL, Mayor of Dearborn Mich., SAYS—

July 10, 1932
The Warren Refining and Chemical Co., Cleveland, Ohio

I have heard a great deal about your WARCO MOTOR OIL for Ford Cars and for my own satisfaction, I secured a sample of it and had it analyzed in our Experimenting and testing Laboratories at Dearborn, and I am pleased to inform you that the analysis showed the oil to be of very high grade lubricant. The Chemists state the oil is the very best they ever analyzed. I am so enthusiastic over this oil for Ford Cars, I would like to see Ford Agents as well as Ford Car owners use it.

Yours very truly,

PRESENT MORGUE IS TERMED INADEQUATE FOR EMERGENCY

Four Marble Slabs Gave Resting Place to Less Than Dozen of 27 Wreck Victims.

Inadequacy of the city morgue at Twelfth and Spruce streets to handle an emergency, such as that caused by the Missouri Pacific train wreck at Sulphur Springs, Mo., was pointed out today by President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, in urging passage of the $132,000 in bonds, to be included for a morgue, in the proposed $17,300,000 municipal bond issue.

The bodies of 27 wreck victims were taken to the morgue. The four marble slabs afforded a resting place for less than a dozen, and the rest had to be placed on cooling boards on the floor, while efforts at identification were being made by persons who had scarcely room to file past.

"The proposed new morgue just south of the Municipal Court Building is being planned to contain 50 refrigerated display boxes, capable of holding 100 bodies, in an emergency," Kinsey said. "Instead of the bare, grim interior adding its depression to those drawn fearfully to the present morgue, the new morgue will be arranged with a chapel effect more in keeping with the respect to the dead."

The architects' plans for the new morgue call for an expenditure of $210,000. The $132,000 of the proposed bond issue and the $78,000 voted for a morgue two years ago will amount to $209,000, which may be sufficient.

LABOR LEAGUE DENIES FOSTER SPEAKS UNDER ITS AUSPICES

Head of Soviet Society in U. S., Ran Out of Denver, Scheduled to Talk Here Thursday.

William Z. Foster, president of the Soviet Russia Society in his country, has no authority from the Trade Union Educational League to speak under its auspices Thursday night at Musicians' Headquarters, 3335, Pine street, William J. Coombs, secretary of the St. Louis Typographical Union, announced today.

Foster, who was run out of Denver last Sunday by Colorado Rangers, headed the general steel strike in 1919. Circulating advertising Foster's speech Thursday night announced that he will speak on "The Labor Question." At Musicians' headquarters it was said the hall had been rented for Foster a month ago by a man who gave no name and paid in advance.

During the steel strike Foster was forced to leave Johnstown, Pa., by a citizens' committee. In 1920 he was mentioned by Attorney-General Palmer as the prime mover in the "outlaw railroad strike." Foster denied the allegation.

On June 12 last Foster was refused the use of the Trades Union Hall, 2228 Olive street. A delegate of the Iron Molders' Union recommended that he be granted the use of the hall for a mass meeting at that time.

When Colorado Rangers ran Foster out of Denver Sunday, they confiscated a suitcase belonging to him containing I. W. W. and Bolshevik literature.

The Early Showing of New Autumn Afternoon

Feature Many of the Newest Style Ideas

STYLES will require more careful study and consideration this season, for Dame Fashion has cleverly brought out some very different ideas. Beads are the most favored trimmings—introducing the new disc shapes together with many others. If not beads, then girlish—novelty effects of every sort—plaited styles, chenille ropes are among them.

Russian influence seems very noticeable, especially in colors, which are even more bright when worked out on the navy and black.

Locust at Twelfth

Mr. Business Man says:
"I'll talk to anyone"

MANY telephone users do not know that they may talk over long distance at least cost by placing "station-to-station" calls.

Mr. Business Man, for instance, says to "long distance": "I'll talk to anyone at Main 1234 in Kansas City."

He saves money by so doing because it is easier, quicker and cheaper for the telephone company to make connections between telephones than between persons. When circumstances permit use "station-to-station" service.

The cost of a midnight "station-to-station" call from St. Louis to Kansas City, for instance, is only forty cents.

Nomination of Harvey C. Holt

the administration forces and

Defeat of either Senator

more intense on the eve of the Secretary of State, calling for abolition of light wines and beer.

Some of the proposed amend-

CONSERVATISM AND PROHIBITION ISSUES
IN OHIO PRIMARY

Thompson, Republican, for Governor, is Dry, While Durand Favors Light Wines and Beer.

LABOR ENTERS INTO SENATORIAL RACE

Constitutional Amendment Petition, Calling for Beer and Wine and Carrying 230,022 Names, Is Filed.

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBIUS, O., Aug. 8.—Ohio voters today are waging a battle of wits that will determine whether the state, so far as the Republican party is concerned, will swing in the progressive column, or remain conservative, and whether it will continue to stand for strict prohibition enforcement or advocate an alteration of the Volstead act, permitting the sale of light wine and beer.

Both issues are being fought out in the campaign for governor. Nomination of Carl A. Thompson of Cleveland would decide in favor of prohibition and the national administration. Succession of Congressman C. L. Knight of Akron or Daniel Williams, Jackson, publisher, would mark victory for the progressives. A victory by C. Homer Durand, Co-shock attorney, would be a repudiation of the Volstead act, and an endorsement of restoration of light wine and beer.

Nomination of Harvey C. Smith of Zanesville, present secretary of state, would also be a rout for both the administration forces and the Anti-Saloon League.

Defeat of either Senator Albee or Senator Durand for re-nomination would mean a victory for organized labor, which has cast its lot with former Congressman John J. Dineen of Columbus, against Senator Pomeroy, and with former Senator Charles Dick of Akron, against Congressman Fess.

The prohibition issue became even more intense on the eve of the balloting by the filing of a proposed constitutional amendment with the secretary of state, calling for restoration of light wines and beer. Sponsors of the proposed amendment claimed that 230,022 signatures, many of them of women, were attached to the petition. The amendment, unless it is ruled off the ballot by the courts, will be voted upon at the November election.

The Democratic contest for governor has failed to bring out clear-cut issues among the three candidates, former State Auditor A. V. Donahy of New Philadelphia, who was the nominee in 1920, former State Supreme Court Justice James G. Johnson of Springfield, and Thomas J. Duffy of East Liverpool.

Other candidates seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination are Rupert R. Beetham of Cadiz, Speaker of the State House of Representatives, who has advocated strict prohibition enforcement since 1914, and Judge E. P. Toney of Lake Village. Throughout the campaign Gov. McRae has stood squarely on his record and has advocated strict enforcement of all laws, including those enforcing Sabbath observance. Judge Toney has attacked this record, particularly in connection with the Governor's handling of pardon and parole authority.

In the race for State offices, the Ku Klux Klan issue was brought prominently to the front in the closing days of the campaign. In a number of counties the Klan endorsement was openly given to some candidates, and in a few instances entire Klan tickets were placed in the field.

Yesterday in newspapers in Little Rock and elsewhere advertisements signed with the name of the Klan appeared, in which rewards were offered for evidence of crooked work at the polls. The anti-Klan forces replied to these activities by advertisements denouncing the Klan as "un-American" and charging that the organization was seeking political control of the State.

REED'S SLIM PLURALITY IN RENOMINATION RACE IS COMMENTED ON BY EDITORS

Some See the Foundations for Stronger Fight Against Democratic Senator-Nominee—Surprise Expressed by Long's Strength in Contest.

Senator Reed's victory over Breckinridge Long for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate is viewed from different angles by the press in various parts of the country. This is the second installment of editorial comment on the subject printed by the Post-Dispatch.

The New York World: The senatorial race in Missouri is so close that the official count may be necessary to determine the winner.

Whatever the result, the "Rid-U-Of-Reed" slogan will continue pertinent, either as a cry of victory or else as a rallying cry for another effort in November.

Reed majorities were rolled up in the cities. Neither St. Louis nor Kansas City has a life-white reputation for political probity. Frauds are possible. This possibility becomes almost a probability when we know that the Republican organization wanted Reed to win as an assistant Republican. When election officers are not "keeping each other honest," fraud has a clear path.

When fraud is legally provable or not, Reed is the beneficiary of moral fraud. Missouri still has the open primary under which a party man can go into the primary of the opposing party and support the least desirable candidate.

The German Republican vote nominated Reed if he is nominated. Missouri Democrats repudiated Reed Tuesday as they did in 1920.

Thirty-five years ago, "Jim" Reed, at last reports holding a slight but steadily diminishing lead in the Missouri Democratic Senatorial primary, enlisted from Cedar Rapids in Kansas City. From the first he took a hand in Democratic politics. He had a quick mind, a biting tongue, a genius for humorous-vituperative engagement, and the gift of making warm friends and prominent enemies. One can imagine his success with juries. In the two years of his service as District Attorney only two defendants were acquitted. In the first years of the new century he was the "Reform Mayor," the phrase had then at least no comic connotation. In a way he was what "Ben" Butler would have called a "dreadful smart man."

Reed was not a "dreadful smart man" more to Missouri than Butler ever became to Massachusetts. Elected to the Senate in 1901, he gradually made himself a salient figure. If his intellectual content was not great, at least he had a gift for buzzing and stinging. In short, he was a "dreadful smart man." Kansas City was inalienably proud of him. The Missouri Democratic tradition of the past century was that of a man who would not desert his party and his President and kept up a long guerrilla war against the latter.

The outliving of him by the Missouri Democratic State convention in 1920, and Mr. Reed's letters of protest, which he had always been a vigorous and energetic character and political conduct, are generally familiar. He seemed largely to have been forgiven. He had the habit of success. He had always been the delight of the crowd. Powerful elements with foreign prejudices or sympathies could be counted on to vote for him. In St. Louis he was notably strong. In all the larger towns and everywhere in the country where there was any disaffection with prohibition he had supporters. Finally, the Missouri primary law virtually allows Republicans to take part in the Democratic primary. Under the election officers may vote to make affidavit that they will vote in November for the nominees of the primary; but there is no way of discovering how the affidavit-maker voted. Mr. Reed's chief Democratic opponent was Mr. Breckinridge Long, an accomplished and cultivated young man, who had had five disastrous candidacies for office. He had no chance whatever until the appearance of Mr. Wilson's letters. The first letter especially created among the Democrats of the State a generous sympathy for the leader, who had all but worn himself out in the service of his country and of peace among the nations.

The old affection for Mr. Wilson was revived. The old offenses of Mr. Reed were seen with revived bitterness. Nobody cared very much for Mr. Long. It is hardly going too far to say that the fight was between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Reed. In time the inclination of Mr. Reed made many people believe that he was a victim of unmerited, fanatical persecution. Indeed, it might have been better for Mr. Long if only Mr. Wilson's first letter had been published. There were many more important and amusing "side-shows." Mr. Reed, attacked for his opposition to the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill, soothed angry bosoms by beautiful rhythmic "pieces" lauding maternity. In his more characteristic moods he fired from every stumpy right and heavy artillery of ridicule and abuse.

Much was made of the opposition to him. Very various causes, of "the women." Presumably, in Missouri as elsewhere, "the women" divide politically just about as "the men." The problem for Mr. Long was to win the country districts and thereby to overcome the Reed pluralities in Kansas City and St. Louis. The Democratic County Committees and the Democratic country press were generally against Reed, though a month or so before the primary he was reported to have made large gains among the ruralists. The Missouri Farm Association worked like beavers for him in some 40 counties. He told the farmers of the unexampled wickedness of Mr. Hoover, who had kept them from getting $5 a bushel for their wheat. The old-fashioned country politicians looked on him as a deserter from his party. In truth, Mr. Reed dwelt on his fondness for Champ Clark and William Joel Stone, and pointed with pride to the support given him by the children of those illustrious Missouri Democrats of the antique school.

Mexico City Editors Interpret Situation as Stride Toward U. S. Recognition—Hughes Note on Subject.

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 8.—The financial agreement reached by Secretary of the Treasury de la Huerfina and the international committee of bankers in New York is ready to be presented for final ratification to the Mexican Congress when it convenes in September. The agreement was ratified and signed yesterday by President Obregon without the slightest change in the original text.

President Obregon has had the text of the agreement at hand since Senator de la Huerfina returned from the United States, but it was not until Sunday that he felt permitted to go over it with the latter, point by point.

It is understood the President at first objected to some of the minor clauses, but yielded to Senator de la Huerfina's request for unequivocal ratification.

In newspaper circles the President's action is hailed as another step toward recognition by the United States Government, although it is realized that the paper says the agreement to become effective Congress must give its assent.

Hughes' Recognition Note.

Much interest is felt here with regard to the complexity of the next Congress. Chief interest here lies in the attitude which will be assumed by Congress on the amendment to Article 27 of the Constitution, dealing with the oil situation, and the agreement entered into in New York by Secretary of the Treasury de la Huerfina with American bankers.

Mexico again has been told by Charles E. Hughes, the American Secretary of State, that Mexico's accomplishments regarding guarantees for American properties and interests must be more of deeds and less of words if American recognition is to be extended to Mexico, according to Excelsior. A communication to the press from the communication, which is described as embodying friendly insistence by Hughes that recognition of Mexico must be preceded by some written guarantee that American properties and interests are not to be subject to confiscation.

In Form of a Letter.

The American Embassy has maintained its usual policy of silence on the situation, all inquiries yesterday being referred to the Mexican Foreign Office, where it was said such matters must be treated confidentially. From the communication, however, it was learned that the communication referred by Excelsior was in the form of a letter from Hughes to Sumnerlin.

It is understood that Hughes, while insisting on a treaty, points out that it is in no wise shall impugn Mexican sovereignty nor offend Mexican National pride or dignity. The letter is said to call attention to the apparent lack of confidence in the American position, which has been carried out during the Obregon administration against American property owners and to say that until fair and reasonable compensation is provided for the loss of property, the United States and Mexico cannot prevail.

Although the tone of Hughes' communication is said to have been friendly and to allow full freedom to the wishes of the Republic of Mexico, persons, who profess to know, assert that nevertheless there is a slight undercurrent of irritation through it.

Excelsior says Great Britain, France and Belgium recently suggested to the United States the advisability of recognition of the Government of President Obregon, to which Secretary Hughes replied that the United States would not recognize a government which renege its stand with respect to a treaty.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 8.—Thousands of former service men, members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, plan to invade Seattle for the twenty-third annual encampment of the organization, Aug. 14 to 19. SENATE APPROVES
SUGAR TARIFF OF
2.3 CENTS A POUND

Measure Would Make Rate Against Cuban Product 24 of Cent on Pound Over Duty in Emergency Act.

SMOOT DISCUSSES

Says Refiners and New York Bankers Face Losses With Dropping of Prices After Advance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A tariff rate of 2.3 cents a pound on sugar was approved today by the Senate by a vote of 37 to 35.

This would make the rate against Cuban sugar 1.34 cents a pound, an increase of 24 of one cent a pound over the duty in the emergency act, and .84 above the Underwood law rate.

Seven Republicans voted against the increase proposed in an amendment by Senator Broussard, Louisiana, and four Democrats supported it.

The Senate was to dispose today of pending amendments to the three important sections of the tariff bill, the sugar schedule, the proposed five years' bounty on potash, in lieu of a duty, and the rate on white arsenic.

Senator Harrison twice suggested yesterday, for a bounty on potash was opposed generally by the Democrats as a departure from the traditional policy of Congress. On the other hand, the white arsenic was pointed to the bounty on sugar paid in the nineties as precedent for their recommendation. The bounty recommended for domestic producers is the same as the tariff duties originally suggested, 2 1/2 cents a pound for the two years, ending Oct. 1, 1924; 2 cents for the year ending Oct. 1, 1925; 1 1/2 cents for the succeeding year and 1 cent for the final year.

A white arsenic duty of 2 cents a pound already has been approved by the Senate, but has been reopened at the insistence of Senators from southern states, who said that it will cost cotton growers millions of dollars a year. They also contend that it will prove a burden on farmers generally, and that the duty will only the smelting industry, who produce arsenic as a by-product.

The blocking of efforts to obtain immediate action on the Harrison bill, a measure for the National Rehabilitation Committee, has suggested to Brigadier-General Charles D. Sawyer, President Harding's physician, that the President be asked to appoint a committee of physicians to deal with the controversy between the General and the legion over the hospital care given wounded soldiers.

Sprague's Letter.

"The American public should know the situation as it really exists," you write, and then you go on to state that "there are 98 Government hospitals with a total bed capacity of 25,412 beds, 10,191 of which are unoccupied." This latter assertion has been given wide national publicity as a denial that further hospital construction is necessary.

The impression is gained from your statement that these beds are available for sick and disabled service men. On the face of the report which the Veterans' Bureau publishes bi-weekly, containing this information, it states in capital letters "this report is to be used for administrative purposes only. Total unoccupied beds cannot be interpreted to mean that they are available on account of character of hospitals and geographic location." This is just what the American Legion says, and what your statement denies.

"You have absolutely ignored the fact clearly stated in the same report that there were 8,611 patients in contract hospitals, 4517 of whom are mental and nervous cases and 274 of whom are tubercular. It is for these men that we demand the best the country can give. The fact that you have omitted these men from your statement to Congress again convinces us that you fail to comprehend the nature of this problem and the tremendous changes that have been effected in medical science during and since the war."

"On a visit to a nearby hospital I found the following situation: Three men were hospitalized in one room, one of them a mental case, another a general surgical case and the third suffering from tuberculosis. The mental case escaped one night and was recaptured, wandering about the vicinity in his pajamas. He was put back in the room and the next night killed the tubercular patient with a chair while the surgical patient looked on helplessly."

PROBLEMS OF EUROPE'S REHABILITATION DISCUSSED

Paul D. Cravath and Oscar T. Crosby Debate Proposals to Aid Europe Financially and to Prevent German Collapse.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 8.—Paul D. Cravath opened his discussion of Europe's rehabilitation before the Institute of Politics yesterday. The debate on this subject and on the problem of interrelated indebtedness, under former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Oscar T. Crosby, showed a sharp division of opinion between one group, favoring some form of cancellation in which the United States would take the initiative, and those who support a more cautious policy involving the diminution or complete cancellation of interest charges and the extension of payments over 50 or 60 years, advocated by those who shared Crosby's attitude.

Cravath contended that Germany's alleged prosperity was illusory and consisted chiefly in the feverish activity of the part of Germans to convert their worthless paper money into goods of some tangible value. He prophesied that this prosperity would soon cease. He favored the reduction of reparations, the active co-operation of the United States in a debt settlement, and believed in the possibility of France being so situated as to volunteer to reduce her reparations.

Cravath had recently been in England discussing the debt problem and the many difficulties facing Germany. He said that the question again arose whether America, in the process of cancellation, should not bind the British Empire not to start a colonial preference scheme which might place American goods in a less favorable position than those of Great Britain in colonial territories.

Protection of France.
Crosby said that if Germany's credit abroad were allowed to collapse so that she could not finance her necessary imports, no one could foretell how far social unrest might carry the German people nor how far that unrest and its consequences might extend to neighboring nations.

Crosby added that, if Germany's credit abroad were allowed to collapse so that she could not finance her necessary imports, no one could foretell how far social unrest might carry the German people nor how far that unrest and its consequences might extend to neighboring nations.

SPRAGUE REPLIES TO
SAWYER'S STATEMENTS

American Legion Official Suggests Naming of Committee to Decide Hospital Controversy.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Col. A. A. Sprague, chairman of the American Legion's National Rehabilitation Committee, has suggested to Brigadier-General Charles D. Sawyer, President Harding's physician, that the President be asked to appoint a committee of physicians to deal with the controversy between the General and the legion over the hospital care given wounded soldiers.

A letter from Sprague to Sawyer in part follows:

"The American public should know the situation as it really exists," you write, and then you go on to state that "there are 98 Government hospitals with a total bed capacity of 25,412 beds, 10,191 of which are unoccupied." This latter assertion has been given wide national publicity as a denial that further hospital construction is necessary.

The impression is gained from your statement that these beds are available for sick and disabled service men. On the face of the report which the Veterans' Bureau publishes bi-weekly, containing this information, it states in capital letters "this report is to be used for administrative purposes only. Total unoccupied beds cannot be interpreted to mean that they are available on account of character of hospitals and geographic location." This is just what the American Legion says, and what your statement denies.

The fact that you have omitted these men from your statement to Congress again convinces us that you fail to comprehend the nature of this problem and the tremendous changes that have been effected in medical science during and since the war."

"The situation that really exists is that many of the 98 hospitals listed as Government hospitals are only emergency buildings, leased from year to year, which the Government abandons soon as proper hospitalization can be secured in Government-owned hospitals."

"On a visit to a nearby hospital I found the following situation: Three men were hospitalized in one room, one of them a mental case, another a general surgical case and the third suffering from tuberculosis. The mental case escaped one night and was recaptured, wandering about the vicinity in his pajamas. He was put back in the room and the next night killed the tubercular patient with a chair while the surgical patient looked on helplessly."

GLIDER IN AIR FOR 37 SECONDS

French Pilot Says He Landed Intentionally in Motorless Plane.

By the Associated Press.
CLERMONT FERRAND, France, Aug. 8.—In the air for 37 seconds in a glider, Pilot Boussoutrot raised the hopes of the spectators at Camp Mouillat yesterday, when, for the moment, they thought a flight in a motorless airplane was a reality.

Boussoutrot said that he landed intentionally on a train as he was a qualifying flight, requiring that he remain in the air but 10 seconds. His machine was a biplane with fixed wings and flexible tips and weighed 500 pounds. Estimated by the American pilot, it was swifter, better weather conditions before taking the air.

Bryan Gets a Real Haircut

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NORFOLK, Neb., Aug. 8.—William Jennings Bryan, on his arrival here yesterday, got a real haircut. Bryan was recaptured, wandering about the vicinity in his pajamas. He was put back in the room and the next night killed the tubercular patient with a chair while the surgical patient looked on helplessly.

FESTUS J. WADE
URGES MEASURES
TO AVERT STRIKES

Present Methods of Combating Walkouts Compared to Fire Department, Whose Work Is Not Preventive.

COMMISSION TO SOLVE PROBLEM ASKED FOR

Points to Laws That Have Been Passed to Control Capital and Suggests Similar Control of Labor.

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Co., in a prepared article, urges that measures be taken by business and labor organizations, for the permanent prevention of strikes.

Outlining the situation created by the present strikes of coal miners and railroad shopmen, and the danger still attending them, Wade says: "We will settle these strikes, but we have not made provision for preventing future strikes—it is analogous to a community which provides a fire department to put out fires, but which makes no effort to prevent fires. Industrial turmoil and succeeding settlements, which point to no permanent cure and which leave the country in the same vulnerable position as before, are futile and shameful for a country such as ours."

"Every large center has its Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's League or Manufacturers' Association. Why not let the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce take the initiative and ask all these other organizations throughout the land to hold a meeting in their respective cities and appoint a commission of 15 or 25 men who will devote their time in an endeavor to solve the strike problem. Sponsor or later bill will be drawn in Congress looking toward a settlement of the question. The great colleges and universities should immediately endeavor to suggest some practical solution."

Says Bankers Should Act Also.

"The American Bankers' Association should also create a commission to study the situation and to make recommendations to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Bank. The commission should also create a commission to study the situation and to make recommendations to the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Reserve Bank."

The framers of the Constitution of the United States never intended that any minority of men should dictate to the majority, whether they be represented by organized capital or organized labor. Therefore, in this period of great stress, it seems to me that the duty of every conservative leader and every conservative thinker, regardless of his condition of life, to work out in harmony a way by which peace and happiness may reign throughout the country."

Discussing the problem of the relations of labor and capital, Wade says that the past excesses of both sides have prevented a solution. The people, he declared, are opposed to dictatorial methods on the part of either capital or labor. He said that labor, in demanding increased wages during the war, was doing what the farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer all did.

Laws to Control Capital.

Laws have been passed to control capital, he said, and the same can be done to control labor. As instances of laws to control capital, he cites the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Sherman antitrust act, the employers' liability act, the Clayton antitrust act, the child-labor act, the Adamson act, the transportation act, and laws regulating the charges of public utilities, regulating rates of interest, and requiring semi-monthly pay days.

Wade says that the apparently high wages of some building trades, by the day, appear in their real proportions when it is figured that the men receiving these wages work 150 to 215 days in the year.

"Organized labor, as well as organized capital, has its power," Wade writes. "Neither is blinder than the United States, and the attempt of either to dictate or dominate this country will result in failure."

Organizations of Labor and Capital.

So called, are both in the great minority; threats from either mean certain defeat, by the inexorable weapon of a majority of the American people. I. e., the ballot box."

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 8.—The twenty-fourth annual encampment and reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans will be held here Aug. 21-24.

PREDICTS G. O. P. CONTROL OF TEXAS IN FEW YEARS

By the Associated Press.
FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 8.—Unqualified disapproval of the Ku Klux Klan, whole-hearted endorsement of the Harding administration, the prediction that the Republican party would assume control of Texas government in a few years, and a plea for tolerance in carrying out the party's program were the high lights of the opening address of Chairman R. B. Creager of Brownsville, before the biennial convention of Texas Republicans this morning. Chairman Creager's remarks were frequently and loudly applauded by the 250 delegates.

THE question, "What is the interest in the volunteer report?" is a question that has been asked many times. The answer is, "The interest in the volunteer report is the interest in the volunteer report." The volunteer report is a report of the interest in the volunteer report. PART THREE.

WHAT DID YOU SEE TODAY?

Volunteer Reporters Tell the Post-Dispatch of the Interesting, Unusual and Often Humorous Incidents They Encounter.

THE question, "What did you see?" has been interpreted liberally by the editor of this department. He has recognized that the imagination has eyes which sometimes may see as clearly as the physical organs of vision. And he has admitted a number of anecdotes in which it was fairly evident that someone else, rather than the writer, saw the thing described. The attempt has been made to keep out joke-book yarns and vaudeville gags. No one person can recognize all these at sight, and some of this character probably have been printed, and others may be. But notice is hereby given that the story of the policeman who hauled a dead horse around the corner because he could not spell the name of the street where he found it, has not a chance. Several persons have offered it.

Today's selections, paid for at $1 each, follow:

A HARD ORDER.

I walked into a soft drink parlor and ordered a glass of beverage. Evidently the barkeeper was a new man, for he called to the owner, "Which is the beverage?"

ALFRED HAYES.
5511 Vernon avenue.

NO CHOICE.

While I was at the polls a farmer came in and asked for a Republican ticket. He asked a woman standing near which was the best candidate to vote for a certain office. She told him neither one was any good. He walked out without voting.

CLARICE MUSGRAVES.
Crystal City, Mo.

PRETTY PRISON.

I was looking at a rustic mill scene in a florist's window the other day when I noticed a butterfly beating its wings against the glass, trying desperately to get in.

MRS. PAUL M. MILLER.
748 Westgate avenue, University City.

OBEYED ORDERS.

An automobile salesman was teaching a woman how to drive a machine. She was bent over the steering wheel, intent on following his directions. She steered to the right at his command, and then he told her to "straighten up," meaning to turn the wheel back to keep the car in the road. The woman sat back and the car ran into a ditch.

H. J. ALLEY.
401 Central National Bank Bldg.

POOR FISH.

At Creve Coeur Lake I was told that the contents of a still had been dumped in a creek near by, killing some of the fish, and causing others to keep their heads above the water for air. I could not believe this until I saw it myself. The mash apparently had poisoned the water.

GLENN E. WAGSTAFF.
4315 Gannett avenue.

CLOWNSHIP.

I noticed a well-dressed woman talking to a man who reached in his pocket and, extracting a pocket knife, began to cut his finger nails. The woman, absorbed in conversation, unconsciously opened her bag, took out a nail file, and began to manure her nails. Neither seemed to notice the other's performance.

EDNA CRUMM.

the intersection of Seventh and Washington, and ran it over the white line on the street behind which she should have stopped. The traffic officer repeated his demands to back up, but she said her husband hadn't yet taught her how to make the machine do that.

EMMET GANNINGER.
4935 Thekla avenue.

IN CODE.

I saw a man enter a restaurant and order pancakes and two ham sandwiches wrapped up to take out. The waiter yelled at the chef: "Stack 'em up. Two ham sandwiches to go by—"

PRICE OF SHADE.

I was sitting in the bleachers. The sun was doing its best to burn us up. Three seats ahead of me sat a man smoking a strong-smelling pipe.

"Partner," said the man next to him, "if you put out that pipe you can have my umbrella." The man did so, and enjoyed the umbrella's cool shade. The man next to the ex-smoker said, "Partner, lend me that pipe," and, taking it, began to smoke. The man next to him promised him his umbrella if he would only stifle the pipe, and so it went the rounds. THOMAS O'BRIEN.

2000 Wash street.

FASTIDIOUS.

I saw a woman grinding onions for chili sauce. She had placed an electric fan alongside the dish of onions to blow the odor away. She wore a white cloth band over her eyes. Pretty nifty, eh?

G. E. MOORE.
2610 Ball street, Alton.

HORTICULTURE NOTE.

We have a nine-year-old peach tree that, up to this year, has never borne fruit. I was told that a rock in the fork of the tree would cause it to bear and placed one there early this year. The tree is loaded with peaches.

GENEVIEVE ELROD.
5822 Ridge av.

WHAT FOR?

I saw a policeman stop a man in an automobile and look on the floor in the rear of the machine, where sat a five-gallon jug. To the policeman's inquiry as to what might be in the suspicious looking jug, the man replied "Water." The officer examined the jug and found it full of—water.

EVELYN SANDERS.
Webster Groves.

IT FITTED.

I saw a sign on Twelfth street extolling the virtues of a judicious dilute. On the lower part of the sign an enterprising vender of gasoline had tacked a poster reading "Gas 23.5 cents."

W. J. M. G.

A HAPPY PAIR.

The other evening a mocking bird that makes its home in a tree near my home flew down and circled around my dog. "Kak." He even went so far as to alight on Ike's back. Ike considered this rare sport, and while I looked on in open-mouthed amazement, the two romped about.

TEMPTING.

A few months ago fire destroyed about half of one of the business blocks at Gerin, Mo., and the only thing that withstood the ravages of the flames was the steel safe, or vault. The safe still stands there and is used as though nothing had ever happened to it, while the bank has its office across the street in another building.

Gerin, Mo.

P. S.—Better not let any of those yeggmen down there find this out or I am afraid we would lose our landmark.

BLACK DIAMOND.

I saw a man walking along the street stoop and pick up a lump of coal, which he carefully wrapped in a newspaper. Looks as if coal will soon be on the shelf with the beer steins.

A PACIFIER.

An elderly man with a small boy sat near me in church. During the sermon the child got restless. The man, without taking his eyes from the preacher, reached into his pocket and, taking out a cut of thin chewing tobacco, handed it to the little fellow. The boy soon let the man know that he wanted a cracker instead. ARTHUR BURKEY.

WASN'T SOFT.

An agent recently brought out a prospective buyer to my bungalow which I have for sale. I explained to the buyer that there were many conveniences, and added that the floors were of hard wood. To my surprise he stooped down and felt of the floor as if doubting my veracity.

A CHANGE IN HUE.

About three weeks ago a nice brunette young lady knocked at my door and tried to sell me some books and magazines. Yesterday when I came down to answer the doorbell there was a blond young lady wanting to sell me a piano. It was the same one who had talked to me three weeks before.

MALICIOUS GRANDMA.
I saw an old woman and an old man, neighbors, fussing as to whose eyesight was the better. She proposed a needle threading contest to decide the matter. He agreed. She got the needles and thread, and gave the needle to him with the eye pointing downward. Long after she had threaded her needle he was trying to put the thread through the eyesless point.

I saw a truck loaded with furniture, driven by a white man. On the running board, sound asleep, lay a negro, with his head between the fender and the engine hood.

PAYING RENT.

I saw several chickens escape from a pen in front of a market when the clerk opened it to get one for a customer. One of the chickens flew into an automobile parked at the curb. A man was sitting in it. When he reached back to catch the chicken it was gone, but it had laid an egg in the car.

EXCELSIOR.

I was surprised last evening as I was walking along Forest Park boulevard to hear a shout from above. Looking up I discovered a boy on the top of the smokestack of the Dorris Motor Co. "Come up here and see St. Louis!" cried the lad. He was fully 175 feet from the ground. Making of a good steepjack.

St. Louis' Tennis Phenom

Wray Brown Is Tennis King of Central States

Washington University Player Should Get Place in "Second Ten."

By Davison Obeor.

The title of "leading tennis player" of the Central United States may be given to Wray Brown, captain of the Washington University team, as a result of his record this season. Not since the days of Rolfe Hoerr and Drummond Jones has a St. Louis player made the record established by Brown in the space of two and one-half months of tournament competition.

Brown's first event was the Missouri Valley Conference championship at Kansas City on May 28. He reached the final, only to be defeated by Ben Parks of Oklahoma University. The next tournament was the district elimination and Brown again reached the final, but was forced to default to Ted Heuerman in order to leave for Philadelphia. Brown, however, won from Ted Drees in the semifinal of the elimination event.

Finalist in National.
The Washington University captain then entered the national intercollegiate championship at Philadelphia and was the sensation of the tournament. He reached the final after winning from such high ranking players as Jimmie Davies of Leland Stanford, California; Walter Westbrook, Western Conference champion; and Gerald Emerson of Columbia University. Brown was picked to win the title, but fell before the drives of Luke Williams, Yale captain, in the final round, which was played after a rain had put the court in a condition that forced Brown to change his game.

Brown returned home and walked off with the Central States title, defeating Ted Drees again and setting revenge on Ben Parks in a semifinal match. The Missouri Valley Tennis Association tournament at Omaha two weeks ago was won by the local star and last week he added the Interstate championship at Sioux City, Ia., to his list of victories. The following is Wray Brown's record since May 28:

Won Central States.
Won Missouri Valley.
Won Interstate.
National Intercollegiate District Elimination.
Missouri Valley Conference.
Fourth Round.
National Clay Court tournament.
Although playing in seven tournaments, Brown has lost to only three players. Parks defeated him in the Missouri Valley Conference event. Williams of Yale defeated him in the Intercollegiate and William T. Tilden won from him in the national clay court event at eastern points. In this tournament Brown surprised with an easy victory over John Hennessy of Indianapolis.

Phil Near Was No. 19.
Wray Brown has a good claim to the title of best or leading tennis player of the Central United States. Last week he defeated Walter Hayes of Chicago and won the Western championship. Hayes is a former national clay court champion and for a number of years has been the champion of this section against the California and eastern players. As Phil Near of Leland Stanford was ranked No. 19 in 1921, it may be possible for Wray Brown to make his second 100 list this year. Only 10 players are ranked by the United States Lawn Tennis Association each year.

Last season Brown possessed a number of good strokes in his play, but lacked confidence. This year he has full confidence and good strokes, which have given him victories over many leading players. The Parkway star is 21 years of age and will be 22 in October. He is one of the youngest players to ever represent this city in national and representative tournament play.

There Are Some Persons Who Think That Kaiser's Foe Will Prove a Hoodoo, Not a Mascott

Cardinals' Game at Boston Called Off, Wet Grounds; Rickey to Bench Mueller

Double-Header to Be Played Tomorrow — Hornsby's Muff of Pop Fly Gives Braves 9 to 8 Victory in Opener.

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—The second game of the series between the Cardinals and the Boston Braves was called off shortly before noon today because of rain. A double-header will be played tomorrow, the first game starting at 1:30 o'clock.

A changed lineup will be Rickey's first step toward a reorganization of his team. Heine Mueller, who has been playing center field and batting fifth, will be withdrawn and replaced by Joe Schultz. Heine has not been hitting and was caught off third base yesterday when his run would have meant a tied score. Bill Doak and Sherdel will pitch the two games for the Cardinals, while Oeschger and Marquard will hurl for Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 8.—Rogers Hornsby is the home-run champion of his league. He is a slugger of the rampant, raging type that breaks up ball games any time at any place. But even kings collapse and yesterday Rogers was just a lubber; he was a ball game where it cost his team the leadership of the National League. Yes, Rogers dropped a pop fly yesterday and the Cardinals lost to Boston and remained in second place. The score was 9 to 8.

No exclusive furrier ever made a more costly muff than the one which Rogers turned in the eighth inning. It came with two out and the bases filled. It was a muff that would have made the sphinx weep. It was big enough that one muffed fly, to keep the Cardinals from passing the Giants. Instead of dominating the

DEMPSEY AND FIRPO MAY MEET IN TITLE GO IN SOUTH AMERICA

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Talk of a bout in South America between Jack Dempsey and Luis Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, was revived today when it was learned that Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and Dan McKittrick conferred with Tex Rickard and Frank B. Flourney at Madison Square Garden yesterday.

"I have been asked to promote a bout between Dempsey and Firpo in South America, but there was nothing of a definite nature accomplished," Rickard said. "I don't expect anything definite for a couple of days." The promoter added that Willard Brennan and Wills were discussed yesterday as possible opponents for Dempsey.

What mattered it if Heine Mueller caught Kopf's fly to retire the side on the next play? Six runs had chased across the plate in that inning and those six runs were just enough to beat the Cardinals in the first game of the series, 9 to 8.

The Ricks didn't give up. They rallied in their ninth and rallied for fair, but again luck was against Hornsby. McNamara replaced Watson as the inning opened and when Flack singled and Stock and Smith walked it filled the bases with noise out for Hornsby and called for Joe Oeschger to take up the pitching.

Rogers is a slugger and he swung hard. But he drove straight into the hands of Nixon in left, and although Flack scored after the catch, it did not do the business. Fournier singled another run across and Smith was on third with two out and the tying run in his pocket when Heine Mueller came to bat. But Heine pulled a perfect Casey and was a strikeout victim to end the inning.

Rogers Hornsby is the home-run champion of his league. He is a slugger of the type that breaks up ball games any time at any place, but Rogers was a lubber on one play yesterday. And the Cardinals are in second place.

Pitchers Blow Up. But Barfoot was even worse. Nixon singled, scoring Gowdy, and when Clyde threw wide twice to Nicholson, Rickey wagged again and Sherdel came in. Sherdel finished by walking Nicholson, which filled the bases for Boeckel. Toney was patient and neepled the good ones. Finally he walked and the tying run was forced over the plate. Then came the first reprieve. Holke sent a twisting pop fly to Fournier and when the ball thudded into Jacques' big mitt it meant one more out and the side retired. Harking back a few moments, it was recalled that Hornsby had inaugurated the inning with an error. A clean play there and the side would have been retired.

Ford was up. Sherdel pitched perfectly for him. A pop fly twisted over Hornsby's head and Rogers backed out to take it. He waited under it while three Braves tore around the bases on the slim chance that he would drop it. That is exactly what he did. He dropped it and three runs scored.

Mascott and Kaiser, Both Title Aspirants, Battle at Polo Park

Pacific Coast Champion, Who Has Spent Nine Years in Quest for Bantam Crown, and St. Louis Youth, Just Embarking on Career, Will Be Rivals in Ten-Round Contest.

By John E. Wray, Sports Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Billy Mascott of Portland, Ore., is a bantam champion, but not THE champion. Probably he never will be monarch of any wider pugilistic range than the one he claims title to now—that of the Pacific Coast. Billy's manager admits that his French-Canadian protégé is nearing 24 years old and has been nine years in the ring without reaching the top.

When a fighter is that long in moderate experience to the ring, to fighting his way to the front he usually tires out before gaining his objective. So Billy, a tough little human dynamo, will have to hurry on his way toward Summitville if he is to scale the dizzy heights whereon Joe Lynch now sits unsteadily.

How far Mascott may go along the route St. Louis fans will be able to judge tonight, when he finishes his 10-round, no-decision contest at East St. Louis with John "Pee-wee" Kaiser of St. Louis, who also is headed toward the same destination as Mascott—to wit, Joe Lynch's lofty seat.

Kaiser is in another situation than Mascott. The St. Louisian brings extreme youth, plenty of ambition, speed, skill and punch, but only a

Two Cardinals enjoyed a perfect day at bat. Ansmith had four ringing hits, one of them a triple that scored two runs. Jack Smith had four hits in four official trips, too, but three of them were infield hits that his fine speed enabled him to best out. Jack was fast yesterday, fast as a streak, and they just couldn't keep him off the bases. He walked once.

Charlie White May Meet Tendler for Chance at Leonard

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—An effort is being made to bring together Charlie White, Chicago lightweight, who last night knocked out Bobby Barrett, and Lew Tendler. The object of such a bout would be to determine which of the two men would get the next pot shot at Champion Benny Leonard.

Leonard announced a few days ago that he will do no boxing for an indefinite period because of the battered condition of his mouth and a cut over his eye. He plans to depart soon on a tour of Europe.

White and Tendler never have fought each other. The winner of last night's bout was advertised as the next immediate adversary of Leonard.

st-Dispatch's Eastern Boxing Authority.

YORK, Aug. 8.—Bobby Barrett, the hard-hitting Quaker fighter, was shoved down the ladder by another rang last night in a short right hook by Charley White in the scheduled 15-round bout at the Yvelodrome. The end came with amazing suddenness near the of the final round and at a time Barrett was having much the of the argument.

Barrett's face was a bloody smear. He looked worried as he backed from his rival, just before the blow, that famous right hook. He held his right glove up to his chin as a buffer, but it was into a right short hook. The one crumpled head first to the floor and lay prone for half the Then, raising himself on one knee, he waited for the rest of the He was so dazed that he seemed to realize what had happened.

Barrett's manager, Ray Dougherty, his manager, from the corner. "Get up, you're being counted out," it didn't appear to hear him when the timekeeper roared.

Patsy Haley, the referee, stepped down and lifted Barrett to his feet. As he did so the bell rang. Barrett's corner, thinking the bell had saved Bobby, like flints trying to bring a spark.

Barrett tried to continue fighting. He made sure of his ground and across the ring and asked the time. The timekeeper of fatal toll declared that he had Barrett out. Joe Hunsberger, who followed the action of the crowd by making the announcement. This time it and he arose from his chair to swing his arms from position.

Barrett, it seems, can't stand the punishment of the sort that he and White deal out. He was only when the short, muscular fighter landed his blows. He was wild, landing sometimes more often missing by a mile. White stepped in like a cannon. The punch was so short and that few realized what had happened. Barrett to hit the floor so

Barrett "crossed" Barrett. He had only felted Barrett in to hope that all the danger lurked at left hook and every time a move with it, Barrett blinked and expectation. When the right of the left came, Barrett was totally unawares and he was to his doom with a punch that was material as it was a blow. He, indeed, made good his hope. He would prove himself a better than Tendler by stopping Barrett in short order. He beat Tendler's chin by a margin of rounds.

Wolfe and Moore Draw. At Wolfe of Cleveland, the last visited the floor so often in his with Frankie Jerome, met Pat of Memphis in a 12-round bout. Moore adopted his slap attack and the hard hitting he walked into him as if Pat had using a putty bowler. Moore is a milder boxer. He can't hit hard. He can hit often. Wolfe's left right eyes were cut as a result. Moore's queer attack, but the while mauler got some hard on himself. The judges called draw, though Wolfe seemed a

Maxims of a Modern Maid
By MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL.
(Copyright, 1922.)

A WOMAN in love for the first time is like a motor car driven by an amateur—you never know how far she will go, or how fast—or when she will stop.

When a man is late getting home to dinner, there is just one thing which irritates him even more than a tearfully reproachful reception. That is still greater lateness on the part of his wife—and, consequently, no reception at all.

A woman changes her dress for no given cause, except that she is tired of the old one, and a man changes the object of his devotion for exactly the same reason.

Important among women's rights are two beaux. Vital among the rights of men are two "best girls." Then, in all domestic crises, each can find mournful consolation in thinking, "How different life would be if I had married the OTHER one!"

Home is a vastly overestimated spot; some child is always telling some other child just how disagreeable he (or she) thinks she (or he) is!

If aural appendages are indeed to be worn again, the time may come when he can whisper sweet nothings into her little pink shell-like ear, and she'll get the connection the first time.

When Solomon remarked, "Vanity, vanity, all is vanity," one wonders if he were not contemplating sadly the sartorial demands of some of his 16-year-old sons.

Things are seldom what they seem—and correspondents are no exception to the rule.

"The REAL 'triumph of hope over experience' is exemplified by the girl who marries her boss!" (Copyright, 1922.)

dark corners of the room.

Molly closed the door noiselessly and went over to him.

"What are you thinking about?" she said softly.

He started to his feet.

"Mrs. Harden! I didn't hear you come in!" His pale face was flushed now.

Molly laughed.

"I thought you heard me." She took up one of his pens and stood twisting it absently.

After a moment she said again irreverently:

"Have you got any money, Mr. Wharton?"

He looked at her helplessly.

"Any money?" he echoed. "Why, what do you mean?"

Molly laughed.

"Only that if you have, I thought we might run away together," she said flippantly.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST
By Aline Michaelis

Blessings in Disguise.

IT takes no special learning to find a lot of joys for which most folks are yearning, men's favorite, longed-for toys. Such things as chicken dinners make all men feel like winners, make godly guys and sinners whoop long with gleeful noise. When making easy money, a stupid wight can see that life is bright and sunny, all full of hope and glee; when cash fills up his coffers from reckless fellows' offers, why even dismal scroffers will wish that they were he. With health and youth to back him, with friends as true as steel, what hardships can attack him, what worries can he feel? There'll be no cause for pining, because the sun is shining, all clouds have silver lining, and life's a four-square deal. But, when it's rocky going and nothing seems quite right, when howling blasts are blowing and sun is hid from sight, when creditors are pressing, and meat bills keep him guessing, we see the sort of blessing that puzzles many a knight. At first, he can't assure him that some things can be good; it takes long years to cure him of hating sawing wood. He vows that fate is fickle, because he's in a pickle and his one, lonesome nickel augments his dreary mood. But, if he keeps on working as swift the season flies, he'll soon be slyly smirking and going for the prize. He'll say: "It is delightful to work from dawn till nightfall, though once I thought it frightful, this blessing in disguise." Ofttimes real worth is hidden from thoughtless people's eyes; they do the stunts they're bidden with groans, complaints and sighs; their troubles they keep stressing, they can not see the blessing that greets them in disguise.

A Loveless Tragedy
By Winnifred Black

SHE married the man she didn't love.

She had to, because she had a stepmother and the stepmother wanted to get rid of her, and now—she is miserable and she wishes she were dead. For the man she didn't love when she married him, does not love her now, and he is cruel to her and cold, and stingy and grudging, and he is quarrelsome and abusive.

All these things she thinks she could endure, for she is tired of life anyway and she doesn't care much what becomes of her—one day is just like another, only sometimes Wednesday is a little worse than Tuesday, but then Thursday is not so bad again, and so she manages somehow—but she has two children. One is a boy of 4, and one a girl of 2.

The man treats the little boy well enough, but he hates the little girl and every time the poor little thing toddles into the room and tries to make friends with him, he pushes her away and calls her an evil name. And every time he gets a chance he beats and abuses the child, and he is always telling the little mother that some day he will kill the little girl.

And this is what the little mother cannot endure.

And she has written to ask me what she ought to do.

Why, my dear girl, how can you even think of asking such a question? You are not yet 26, you don't know anything about life at all, you have never really lived—this part of your existence is nothing but a nightmare, a bad dream from which you must help yourself to awake.

What are you, anyhow, a dog, to be beaten and abused and ordered around?

Raise Your Head.

Who is this man that he should dare assume any such rights? Never mind where he came from, don't you know and doesn't he know that this is America and that such men as he cannot work their will upon a defenseless woman without punishment?

Go to the nearest court, little woman. Tell the Judge your story, ask him for protection, put your children where they can be taken care of, find yourself some honest work and make your life all over again.

You have no right to bring up your children in such an atmosphere. Broken-hearted? Of course you are! Who wouldn't be under such circumstances? But—you don't have to be broken-hearted forever.

No one human being has the right to dominate another, as the man who calls himself your husband seems to dominate you.

Raise your head, throw back your shoulders, take your dear children in your arms and face the world with them—you will find hundreds of friends and plenty of work, be sure of that—if you look for it in the right spirit.

Afraid?

The World's Before You.

This man will not kill you if you leave him. Cowards who threaten do not kill. Get yourself away from it where he cannot find you and in six months he will forget that you are alive.

What is your little girl's name? Is she dark or fair? What do you intend to make of her in life? What profession shall you choose for your little boy? You don't want him to grow up into a cruel brute, do you? Take him away from such an influence.

The world's before you—the whole world. And it's full of sunshine and full of happiness for you, if you will only reach out your arms and take it.

HORSERADISH SAUCE

MIX together two tablespoons of soft white bread crumbs and two tablespoons of fresh grated horseradish root. Cover with thin cream or top milk and let soak two hours. Then rub through a coarse sieve and season with one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of sugar and two tablespoons of vinegar. Enough cream or milk should be used to give it the consistency of thick cream. The sauce will keep in a cool place for several days. Serve with roast or boiled beef.

The Pursuit of Sleep
- and How to Catch it

You wondered at it so with a change, a physician would tell you the change was even greater than you supposed. Tell you, too, why sometimes it takes you so long to effect the change when you need sleep the most.

And so the lightweight champion signs
For other worlds to pick on.

Although he had a damaged lamp,
He walloped Ever Hammer;

THE SUREST SYSTEM YET.

WHEN you hear a story from the man in the street and shortly thereafter go to a vaudeville theater and hear a performer on the stage repeat it, you may know by this sign that it has undoubted merits. It is an evidence of distinction on the part of the story.

Here lately a popular yarn of other days has been enjoying a theatrical revival. The story has to do with a man describing a poker game which he was invited to join while visiting in a strange town.

"The first hand that was dealt," he says, "I had three. I opened the pot and one other man stayed. He drew one card. We bet back and forth for awhile and finally he called. 'I've got three of a kind,'
I said, and showed down my three nines. 'I've got a straight—ten high,'
he says, and pitches his hand in the deck and reaches for the chips.
'Hold on,' I say, 'I didn't see what you had.' He looks at me sort of surprised and the fellow who's givin' the party speaks up and says to me: 'This is a gentleman's game. If a man wins a pot here we never ask him to show his hand. We just take his word for it that he holds the winning cards, and we let it go at that. That's our rule.'

"Did you keep on playing after that?" asks a bystander.
"Certainly I did," says the first speaker.
And did you win?"

"Did I win? Well—the first pot was the only one I lost!"
